Community Work Day – Pavilion Construction

If enough volunteers show up this Saturday it might be feasible to complete construction on the second pavilion. The work that remains calls for at least five people to get the roof atop the framed structure, so if you have an hour or two, please make your way to the Commons to help. Work will begin at 9 AM and more than likely the need for several people to get the work done will be completed by 10:30.

Hope to see you there.

Here are a few more photos of the construction.
